

GENERAL DYNAMICS MISSION SYSTEMS REMAINS COMPLIANT WITH UNANET

As a leading provider of mission critical systems across land, sea, air, space, and cyber domains, General Dynamics Mission Systems needed a DCAA compliant timekeeping solution and had a robust set of requirements.

They chose Unanet to meet the needs of their global workforce. General Dynamics Mission Systems initially secured 8,000 licenses and have expanded their footprint to 14,000 users.

CHALLENGES

- Had extensive DCAA-compliant timekeeping requirements
- Needed to feed data to multiple back-end accounting systems
- Required a system that would capture all hours across both project and administrative work
- Disparate spreadsheets made project management difficult and inefficient
- Sought a system that would provide robust workflows for complex reviews and approvals
- Had a very large and global team to integrate

"Unanet is passionate about helping each customer better manage their project-driven business. As a team, Unanet and General Dynamics Mission Systems worked closely together to implement the best functional timesheet software to meet their robust requirements."

GENERAL DYNAMICS Mission Systems

General Dynamics Mission Systems brings together diverse talents, histories and capabilities that resonate across our business. Today, our company has an established global presence in secure communications systems, command and control systems, imagery sensors and cyber products.

General Dynamics Mission Systems reinvents the bounds of innovation to advance our customers' missions.

Unanet

With over 15 years of production use, Unanet is a proven solution for managing projects, people and financials in project-driven organizations.

Over 1,000 customers—including General Dynamics, Leidos, Pfizer, and Stanford University—trust Unanet to provide visibility into the work, reduce costs, improve revenues, and streamline business management of services processes. Unanet customers typically achieve ROIs of over 1000%.

THE UNANET SOLUTION

Unanet was able to unify General Dynamics Mission Systems' team by providing one integrated timekeeping platform that met all of their robust and highly complex needs. Continuing our service to the General Dynamics Mission Systems' team for over ten years, Unanet has gone on to work with two more divisions of General Dynamics.

After implementing Unanet, General Dynamics Mission Systems:

- Has a DCAA-compliant timekeeping solution for their global team of 14,000
- Is benefitting from one integrated solution that feeds data to and from multiple back-end accounting systems
- Can capture and analyze all effort across a myriad of projects and has better access to non-project related work that they did not have visibility into before
- Has eliminated the quagmire of disparate project management spreadsheets
- Can process reviews and approvals easily – even in situations involving complicated workflows
- Managers have better reporting capabilities and access to real-time dashboard data
- Serves a global team by providing an easy-to-use integrated system
